Let it be known we, Beneficiary/Creditor come with honour, and it is our duty to instruct you as Receivers/Respondents, of this Notice of Fiduciary duty to all proclaimed Public Servants. Fiduciary duty for All Public Servants covers, not limited to; a range of ethical and legal/lawful responsibilities to perform in the best interests of we the Beneficiary/Creditor, key duties and performance indicators are as follows:

1. Duty of Care: All Public Servants are expected to perform your duties in a lawful/legal manner with due diligence, competence, and prudence, such as, making well-informed and lawful decisions based on careful consideration of all relevant information and potential impacts, ie:

abuse of power using judicial office for personal gain or to favour certain parties.

2. Duty of Loyalty: All Public Servants must prioritise we the Beneficiary/Creditor interests above your personal and private interests performing diligently and upholding loyalty to the public/people interest.

3. Duty of Integrity: All Public Servants must conduct themselves with honesty and integrity, avoiding any behaviour that might undermine we the Beneficiary/Creditor's confidence. All Public Servants must conduct themselves in a manner to prevent any possible corrupt practices, such as possible forgery, possible fraud and any possible form of potential unethical conduct, if you as Receivers/Respondents are in knowledge of any crimes or misconduct/malfeasance it is your lawful/legal duty to report all events: to Australian Federal Police (AFP) also to the Anti-corruption Academy email; anticorruptionacademy@protonmail.com and the Corruption Whistleblower newspaper, email: info@corruptionwhistleblower.com, without fail, for public notice to be published and remain in the public.

4. Duty of Confidentiality: All Public Servants must maintain the confidentiality of sensitive information obtained in the course of your duties. You as Receivers/Respondents must not disclose or misuse such information for personal gain or to the detriment of we Beneficiary/Creditor's interest, not limited to; breach of privacy and Privacy Act 1988.

5. Duty to Act With-in the boundaries/confines of Authority: All Public Servants must fulfill duties within the scope of your authority as defined by proper laws, acts, regulations, and organisational policies in their entirety. You as Receivers/Respondents must not exceed your legal/lawful or organisational boundaries.

6. Duty of Fairness: All Public Servants are obligated to perform fairly and impartially in your interactions with the we the Beneficiary/Creditor, such as ensuring equal treatment and avoiding discrimination, harassment, intimidation, coercion, personage, barratry, slavery/citizenship or favouritism, or any bias or prejudice behaviour that allows possible personal biases or prejudices to influence your decisions.

7. Duty to Uphold the Law: All Public Servants must comply with all applicable proper laws, regulations, and ethical standards. You as Receivers/Respondents must ensure that your actions and decisions are lawful/legal (approved by electors at any referendum) and promote and enforce the rule of law.

8. Duty to be Transparent and Accountable: All Public Servants must be transparent in your actions and decisions, providing clear and full accurate disclosure to we Beneficiary/Creditor and to relevant authorities. You as Receivers/Respondents are held for your actions, accountable for your decisions and use of all resources such as failure to disclose information meaning, hindering, failing to disclose relevant information or non-retaining evidence.

9. Fiduciary Duty to Promote Trust: All Public Servants must perform in an honest and authentic manner, for the benefit of Beneficiary/Creditor's trust.

10. Duty to Avoid Conflicts of Interest: All Public Servants must avoid any personal, financial, or other interests that could conflict with your official duties, such as Judge/Magistrate rulings and court commission royalties. All Public Servant must disclose any potential conflicts of interest and take appropriate steps to mitigate or eliminate possible injury/harm to we Beneficiary/Creditor.

11. Duty to be Ethical: All Public Servants must uphold yourselves to high ethical, moral and judicial standards in all aspects of your work. You must maintain the highest integrity, honesty and ethical transparent behaviour within your organisations and in your interactions with we the Beneficiary/Creditor.

Breaching Fiduciary Duties can and will result in a lack of public trust and confidence in the authenticity of legislative authority.

Breaching of fiduciary duties may result in further actions.

May it be said everyone is equal under the law and accountable for their actions.
